Her many friends on the Peninsula will be glad to know that Miss Brown has brought her shop to the lobby of the Pine Inn. By mere coincidence she will have her opening on March 7, the same day that she Cinderella Shop is giving a fashion show during luncheon at the Pine Inn. Miss Brown's accessories will be shown by the models for the Cinderella Shop. It will be a busy and exciting day for her.

Miss Brown's enthusiasm, taste, generosity and hard work have endeared her to many citizens of Carmel. She has returned here because she learned to love the town during her association with Gump's, and now her dream to return has materialized in her new shop of custom knits and accessories. Her bright personality and appreciation of the really chic accessory have enabled her to secure the work of some of California's outstanding designers.

The opening on March 7 will be very gala--with the designers here in person to launch the new shop and to discuss their creations with the guests. POLAROID One-Minute Photograph.

CLAM BAKE AND MUSSEL FEED

On Sunday, March 4, the Carmel Associated Sportsmens Club will hold a clam bake and mussel feed for members and their families, at the residence of Dr. G. R. Parker Rancho Rio Vista.

There will be trapshooting, fly, plug and surf-casting. Members are asked to bring their own equipment and "eatin' tools"... beer and wine to be on the Club.

The Sportsmens Club is a group of sportsmen of Carmel and vicinity organized for the general purpose of conservation of our natural resources and recreational facilities, to promote good sportsmanship, and to protect and advance the privileges of a better outdoors.

TO RUN FOR SCHOOL BOARD

Mrs. Julian von Meier, of Carmel, has announced her intention of running for an office on the school board, when the elections for new members take place on May 19. The terms of Gordon Campbell and Harold Nielsen expire at that time. The latter has said he is not running for re-election, but it is not yet known whether or not Mr. Campbell will be in the race.

GEORGE CONN SPEAKER AT STAMP CLUB MEETING

At the meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Stamp Club, held in the cafeteria of Sunset School, Monday evening, February 19, Colonel John R. Wright, president, called attention to the box for donations of stamps to the Veterans' Hospital.

L. S. Stallings, program chairman, introduced the speaker of the evening, George Conn, of Carmel. Mr. Conn traced the history of mail facilities and rates from Colonial times to the present. The colonies fixed the postal rate at six cents for 100 miles. The Continental Congress doubled these rates. Conn said they have been doubling NOVELTY CLOTH, in basket weave, to effect a hard but interesting design in the double-breasted tailored shorties--for $29.98--is the news hot off the griddle at the COLLEGIATE DRESS SHOP. Included among these popular priced shorties are others in Casha cloth, in natural, for the same phenomenally low price of $29.98. For those who read this column, I don't have to repeat that the COLLEGIATE SHOP, at 485 Alvarado Street in Monterey, has a galaxy of shorties. It just seems that every week new ones, entirely different and with something new to offer, appear on the scene. So, you need only make your choice. The quantity is limitless and the quality substantial.

THIS IS NOT TO START PANIC BUYING...but we all realize that leather is now frozen. HARRIET DUNCAN was wise enough to buy ahead, and she has in her shop a good collection of imported leather belts with brass decorations. Brass is now unavailable except for the supply already on hand. So, if it's something super duper in a crested belt that you have been needing, don't get panicky, but just realize that though there is a nice collection at the HARRIET DUNCAN DRESS SHOP on Sixth and Lincoln, it won't last forever and if you don't buy now, you may be out in the cold.

TALKS ON WEEDS

The monthly meeting of the Monterey Peninsula Garden Club was held Friday evening, the 16th, in the Pacific Grove Civic Club house, with President Earl De Smidt presiding. After a short business meeting and the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting by the secretary, Virginia Diffenbaugh, a very instructive and interesting talk was given by Prof. W. W. Robbins on problems of weed control.

Prof. Robbins is from the University of California at Davis, is internationally known as an educator and lecturer, and he gave some valuable information relative to the various weed killers now on the market, when and where to use them, and the results obtained.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served.

GOOD WAYS TO USE BACON

By ALICE DENHOFF

MAKE use of healthful, tasty bacon as an ingredient for some excellent dishes, hearty, satisfying, reasonable in cost, therefore geared to the season and the times.

Bacon ready-sliced saves time and provides dainty pieces. Bacon in the slab slices to suit and slices the budget to boot. Slab bacon also allows for dicing to flavor scrambled eggs and cheese omelets. Bacon should be kept in the refrigerator and no more than the amount needed should be removed. To leave bacon in a warm place and then return to the cold, shortens its keeping qualities.

In Waffles

Cooked bacon crumbled into waffle batter makes extra good waffles. Stuffed baked potatoes improve with bacon crumbled into the whipped potato.

Now for a good hurry-up dish. To serve 6, cube 12 slices bacon and fry until crisp; remove and add 2 large sliced onions and 2 chopped green peppers. Cook slowly until onion is soft and yellow, then remove. Wash one c. rice and saute in fat until lightly browned. Add one c. canned tomatoes, 2 c. boiling water, tsp. salt, 1 tsp. chili powder, the bacon, onion and green pepper; simmer 20 to 30 min. or until rice is tender.

Inexpensive Dish

For an inexpensive, nourishing dish, arrange alternate layers of cooked kidney beans, pieces of raw bacon, canned tomatoes and sliced onions in greased casserole. Bake at 350 F. about 30 to 40 min.

For a good dish, a bacon and vegetable plate, broil one lb. bacon until evenly crisp. At the same time, place 6 tomato halves in the broiling oven, dot them with butter and heat. Cook one head cauliflower and one lb. green beans separately in boiling, salted water. Make a cheese sauce by combining 2 tbsp. each butter and flour, gradually adding one c. milk, cooking until thickened and then adding ¼ lb. mild cheese. To serve, arrange cauliflower in center of platter and pour cheese sauce over it. Alternate portions of green beans and tomato halves around it and border with slices of bacon.

For stuffed bacon rolls combine 2 c. bread crumbs, one finely diced, small onion and one tbsp. finely minced parsley. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with hot water. Place one heaping teaspoon of the mixture on each end of each of 12 slices of bacon. Roll bacon slice around dressing, and fasten edge with a toothpick. Broil at moderate temperature, turning frequently to broil on all sides.

...KIP'S FOOD CENTER PICKETS PICKED for pulchritude this week... an improvement on the husky organizer who looked like he'd be more useful expending energy on a defense job than picketing a group of store clerks who don't want to be organized anyway... Carmel people who seem to like Carmel as it is--even to its relatively unorganized labor status--still passing the beautiful barricade marching back and forth... Talk among other Carmel workers, namely the bartenders and cocktail waitresses, all of whom are union but working in technically open shop places--indicates they hope and wish their organizers will leave Carmel the way it is, too. They're all getting union scale or better, their bosses are nice guys, and who would gain but the organizers?..

JIM KELSEY SAYS LOCAL COLD SNAP WARM BESIDE KOREA

Jim Kelsey, popular commander of the American Legion Carmel Post No. 512, didn't think much of of the little cold snap the Peninsula's shivered under this mid-week. Jim just came back from Korea, which he avers is "one of the coldest places in the world, I think."

He was serving aboard the Navy supply vessel USS Uvalde during the frigid Korean weather attending the evacuation of UN troops at Hungnam. For three weeks the USS Uvalde shuttled back and forth off the evacuation beachhead loading supplies aboard the "Mighty Mo," the Leyte, the Philippine Sea, the Rochester and other great line ships furnishing artillery and air support to the battling UN troops on shore.

Then the USS Uvalde received orders to return to Mare Island Naval Shipyard for general overhaul which, incidentally, gave Jim the chance for two short leaves to Carmel to see his wife, Frances, and baby daughter, Randy, age 9 months.

From October until January, Kelsey was stationed at Sasebo, Japan. However, as his ship was anchored at a buoy in the harbor, he got ashore only on short liberties. During World War II Navy days he served on small boats and landing crafts in the Gilbert Islands, the Palau group, and "hundreds of other small islands."

Jim's 10-day leave ends Sunday, at which time he will return to his ship. Meanwhile he's spent his 10 days just loafing with his family and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kelsey, of Carmel, seeing old friends, and fishing--unsuccessfully to date--for steelhead. Is it good to be home?--"Oh, you know it. They can let me come home for good any time they like."

A romance which started in Paris culminated this week in the nuptials which united Peggy Page, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Page, and Eugenio Dan Hodel of Zurich, Switzerland. The wedding brought some 150 guests, mostly from the San Francisco Bay Area, to the Carmel Point home of the bride's parents.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. K. Fillmore Gray of the Church of the Wayfarer before an altar set up in the Page living room and decorated in white stock and greenery. The bride's wedding dress was a charming creation of white net and lace with a net train. A half crown of daphne secured her short veil and she carried a bouquet of white stock and white camelias.

Her sole attendant was Miss Nancy Keegan, of Omaha, a Wellesley classmate who also shared an apartment with the new Mrs. Hodel when they were both in Paris with the ECA. Best man for the groom was Howard Schless, graduate student at Yale.

The groom is visiting the United States on a six months visa, at the expiration of which the new couple will leave to make their home either in Switzerland or France. The groom's parents are the Max Hodels of Zurich, Switzerland. Mrs. Ray Shumacker of Carmel, and Mrs. J. F. van Loben Sels of Monterey, are both aunts of the bride.

Out from Chicago for a brief visit are the Nathaniel A. Owings, who are enroute to Honolulu.

New Yorkers vacationing at Del Monte Lodge this week include Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Cresap, Mr. and Mrs. Schuyler Merritt, and Mrs. Robert A. Chambers.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore F. Smith of Pittsburgh and Mr. and Mrs. Britton Wood of Cincinnati are also guests at Del Monte Lodge.

A Valentine's Day Mixed Doubles Tennis Tournament was held at the Beach Club courts with Mrs. Kent Parrot and Lt. Stanley Abele, USN, as winners of the event.

Others who played were Lt. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. Adolphus Andrews of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Osborne, Monterey Peninsula Country Club; Captain and Mrs. George R. A Valentine's Day tournament for girls in the eighth grade or under was also held this week. Ann Luker and Patty Rickets tied with Mary K. Denman and Patsy Field for first place, but in the play-off Ann Luker and Patty Rickets took home the chocolate hearts. Moving Is Hard for Child

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, Ph.D.

SEVERAL times during recent years I have in this column discussed the adjustment problems facing the child who moves with his family to a new community and new school district—new playmates, new schoolmates, new teachers, new ways of teaching, new schoolbooks and new curriculum. For instance, in the new school the work in reading, spelling or arithmetic may be one grade or more advanced over the work in the former school.

"Dear Dr. Myers: I never thought I would be writing to you for advice for I am a graduate of — State College in Home Economics and, of course, did take both child psychology and child development in my college years. But I really do need your help. Linda, age 7½, has just entered her fourth school for this fall term. Her daddy works for one of the major rubber companies and is on a production training job just now and we are being transferred around the country. We do expect to be here in Alabama for some while.

Made Adjustment

"Linda attended a school in — last year where we had always lived. We were transferred here in November. Our 6th grader Julie has made the adjustment beautifully, but Linda found she was very much behind, particularly in arithmetic. She is a child who kept up with her class easily —and then to find herself in a school which is so advanced has upset her so terrifically. They are adding and subtracting up through 6's—and she didn't even know how to write a problem down, let alone the answer, when we came here.

"It showed up first with her refusing to wake up in the morning. Then her tummy began to hurt and she felt nauseated on the following days. I visited the school and had a long talk with the teacher, who was a little too outspoken in front of Linda, I felt, criticising her reading, writing and number work, but she really seems to want to help Linda but Linda feels like such an outsider. The teacher had these same pupils last year and has been training them on numbers since the middle of 1st grade. School has been haunting Linda. She cries at night, her sisters tell me (not in Linda's presence), her little face looks peaked, and dark circles are under her eyes. She's normally a happy little girl —always singing and whistling. I am so concerned about this adjustment because I know many nervous illnesses in later life date back to some such experience as this in childhood.

Tried to Help

"We have helped her catch up on her work. My husband has had some fine discussions with the principal, who is very acquainted with Linda's situation.

"We have tried to be specially loving to Linda through many family games and interesting conversations."

How I wrote the mother: Fortunate is Linda to have parents so kind and appreciative of her and her hard problems. Perhaps I cannot suggest any improvement of your good ways. However, it is possible that a gentle primary teacher working with Linda on arithmetic for half an hour a day could help her more than you parents can, as Linda is not her child. I am enclosing my "Home Helps in Arithmetic." (To be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this paper.)

Feels Inferior

Then big sister's success could cause Linda to feel very inferior. I hope she does not talk of her own success or try to help Linda. Try to cause Linda to consider good grades in arithmetic less important than she does.

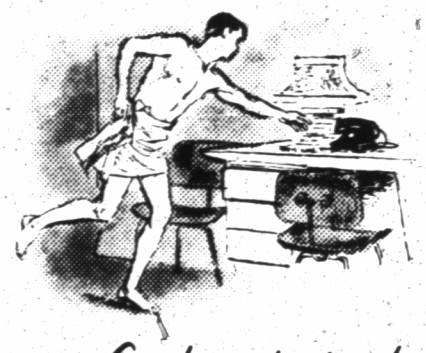
Linda may not enjoy her schoolmates or home playmates. Anything you can do to help her win more successes in this direction should help.

Perhaps you should have Linda checked carefully by your physician.

GOAL

Goal for the Red Cross 1951 Fund Campaign to be conducted throughout the month of March is $85,000,000. This amount is needed for increased services to the Armed Forces and veterans, for an expanded health program to meet civil defense training requirements in first aid and home nursing, and for disaster relief.

How to make good telephone service even better....

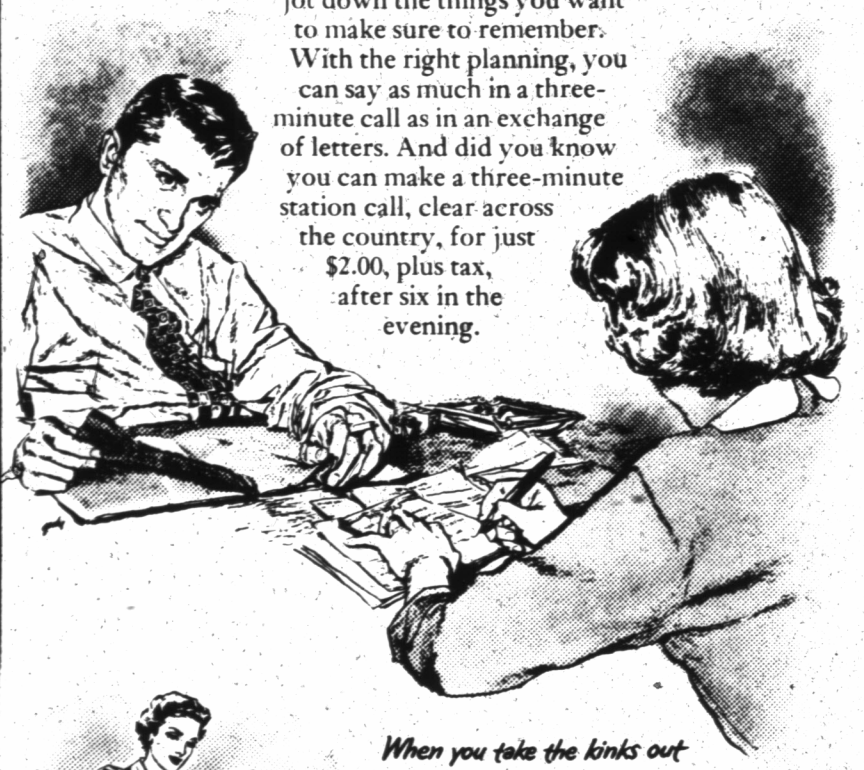


Give 'em time to answer

How many times have you answered the telephone just as someone hangs up? You know it's not always possible to get to the telephone the moment it rings. So best way to make sure you get the person you're calling is to give him a full minute to answer.

Good way to stretch your telephone dollar

When you make a Long Distance call, you can get the most for your money if, ahead of time, you make notes of the things you want to talk about. Then, during your call, jot down the things you want to make sure to remember. With the right planning, you can say as much in a three-minute call as in an exchange of letters. And did you know you can make a three-minute station call, clear across the country, for just $2.00, plus tax, after six in the evening.



When you take the kinks out

What Do You Say ?

Where do rising food costs hurt you most?

POLAROID One-Minute Photograph.

MRS. JOHN A. FERGUSSON, housewife (pictured with daughter Anne, 2, and son Ian, 3): Especially in the meat department. I don't see how things can get much worse. I feel controls should have been put on sooner, and that if more panic buying starts they should start rationing. Where we got along for $30-per-week for meat, we now pay $45 or more.

MRS. DONALD RAMSEY, Navy wife (pictured with daughter Rosalind, 3): Well, we move around so much that we can't afford to buy large economy sizes of canned goods and so forth. Naturally having the Navy commisary to go to helps out, but even this is awfully inconvenient. If we had a larger family and no help from the commissary I expect we'd have a really rough time these days.

MRS. ALFRED VANG, housewife, (pictured with son Eric, 3): I'll say they hurt, particularly with the meat situation. Up to this point we've been eating ground round. Thank God for the chicken. Of course we're still lots better off than most other people of the world--like the English with their 5 oz. of meat per week.

MRS. HERBERT E. WEIL, housewife, (from Fort Wayne, Indiana): Our family is smaller than it used to be, but otherwise we would have to rearrange our food budget considerably. Particularly, less steak, lamb chops, and other meats we love. However, vegetables and fruits, and produce generally, are cheaper and better quality here than in Indiana.

CALVIN FLINT ADDRESSES CARMEL WOMAN'S CLUB

Presiding at the meeting of the book section of the Carmel Woman's Club, on Monday, February 19, Mrs. Benjamin G. Johnson, chairman, introduced the speaker, Calvin Flint, president of Monterey Peninsula College.

Mr. Flint developed his topic "International Understanding" in a most interesting manner. Discussing our "lack of understanding," he spoke of the effectiveness of Russia in North Korea in contrast to the ineffectiveness of our efforts in South Korea.

"This may be predicated," he said, "upon the historical background of Korea, which has been dominated by Japan since 1925. She kept the landlord government. We supported that regime. True, we held democratic elections, but in so doing we tried to establish a form of political democracy."

Mr. Flint also cited conditions in China, the Philippines and Germany resulting from our lack of the economic viewpoint. "Countries obtain food from the outside world," he said, "by three means: gold, barter and conquest." He explained the theory of exchange between Great Britain and the Dominion of Canada--which affected the shipment of wheat, tomatoes and strawberry preserves from Bulgaria.

He referred to Churchill's Memoirs, explaining the argument between Churchhill and Roosevelt over the invasion of Germany. Churchill advised use of the route through Turkey and Greece into Germany in order that Russia might not invade after the war. Roosevelt gave in to Stalin. He did not recognize the historic procedure of Russia--always to break through to the sea--held back by Japan, Germany and England until we created the vacuum in Europe.

Mr. Flint also commented on the determination of Russia and the power of the propaganda she has used in her satellite countries and which she is continuing to use here in the United States.

Suggested solutions for the present dilemma were Hoover's plan of "pulling out," the United Nations, or the United States alone. Mr. Flint referred to the two periods of peace in Roman history, as well as to the years in which the British navy was able to hold the balance of power. "Today, with the United Nations, possibly we are the leaders to step in where there is any kind of strife or aggression."

Members of the Book Section were grateful for this thought-provoking talk and for the list of books which Mr. Flint termed as "excellent to awaken us to the action of Communism."

Tea was served by chairman Mrs. Victor B. McCrea, assisted by Mrs. Ethel M. Taggart and Mrs. John S. King, who were also responsible for the flower arrangements. Pouring were Mrs. Fenton Grigsby and Mrs. H. Paul Riebe.

At the next meeting of the Carmel Woman's Club pictures will be shown of garden shows, including the one given by this club. These color slides, shown by Mr. and Mrs. Noel Arnold, will be both movie and still pictures of local shows and gardens.

The date is Monday, February 26, at 2P.M. President Mrs. F. E. Vaughan also announces that the Spring Rummage Sale will be April 9. With spring housecleaning under way, friends of the Carmel Woman's Club are requested to save all discards for this sale. All articles will be called for. For this pick-up service call Mrs. James Burgess at 7-7736.

DOUGLAS - HARBER WEDDING SUNDAY

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. McGlynn, Jr., of Sunridge Road, Pebble Beach, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Dici Douglas, to Arthur Harber, son of the Floyd E. Harbers of Carmel.

Next Sunday is the date set for the wedding of the pair, at the Church of the Wayfarer, Carmel, at 3 P.M., and a reception is to follow at the Carmel Youth Center.

Arthur has two brothers, Victor and David, and a sister, Louise, all of Carmel.

Both are graduates of Carmel High School and they attended Monterey Peninsula College for two years. Arthur was a star football player with the MPC team, and Glorienn, a singer of some talent, was known as the college's "own Doris Day."

The prospective bride was honoree at a shower recently at the Carmel home of Mrs. Gene Vandervort, who chose a Valentine theme for the affair. A large cake in the shape of a heart was the center of the decorations.

Among Mrs. Vandervorts guests were Carol Templemen, Donna Douglas, June Updike, Benita Updike, Louise Harber, Evelynn Vandervort, Joan Vandervort, Georgann Bell, Marilyn Draper, Bobby Hapsis, Jerry Yoakum, Carol Ann Smith and Janice Harney.

Last Friday Mrs. Thomas A. McGlynn, Jr., mother of the bride-go-be, has invited about 25 of her daughter's closest friends to attend an Italian dinner at her Pebble Beach home. Mrs. Floyd E. Harber and Mrs. Richard Hendricks will assist Mrs. McGlynn.

BALICERS ENTERTAIN JOE KIRKWOODS

As a farewell honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ebling (golf professional at Haverill Country Club, Haverill, Massachusetts) and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kirkwood of Beverly Hills, Dr. and Mrs. Leon B. Balicer were hosts at a cocktail party, followed by late dinner, at their Carmel home. Ewing Richardson of Hollywood was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirkwood--better known to movie goers as "Joe Palooka," and starlet "Cathy Downs," are enroute to Texas and Florida, where Joe will participate in the coming golf tournaments. After the tournaments, he will make another "Palooka" picture, before returning to the Peninsula.

PEBBLE BEACH NOTES...

Last weekend was a busy one for Mr. Frank T. Heffelfinger of Minneapolis who is currently vacationing at Del Monte Lodge. Friday evening the Robert Stantons hosted a dinner party in his honor in their Carmel Valley home; Saturday he was the honor guest at the Carmel home of Colonel and Mrs. Harold Mack, and Sunday noon, Mrs. Henry Potter Russell gave a luncheon in his honor. Mr. Heffelfinger spends several months each year at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach, where he has many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Loyall McLaren, Mr. Curtiss Hayden and Mr. and Mrs. Robbins Milbank were among those who have just terminated a few days stay at Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach. Mr. and Mrs. William Clay Ford of Grosse Point, Michigan, are vacationing here this week.

Mr. I. W. Stevenson, a student at Douglas School, traveled to the Bay area this weekend to look into the possibility of entering a Merchant Marine school. Steve is a yachtsman at heart. He is already working on the Stillwater Yacht Club spring schedule and preparing his boat for participation.

IT WORKED

Many Carmelites shook their heads gravely and said it would never work. But it IS working. We're referring to the Carmel Work Center--and no pun is intended.

Last summer, George W. Beeman, of Pebble Beach, growing restless in retirement, decided to establish an organization to aid the craftsmen of the Peninsula in developing and marketing their creations.

At the outset, Mr. Beeman encountered many unexpected obstacles, including a certain amount of apathy on the part of the local populace, and in some cases on the part of craftsmen who could benefit from such a venture.

Today however, leading craftsmen in the area are selling their creations through the Carmel Work Center shops (in the Seven Arts Court and at the Pebble Beach Lodge), and through the Center's national mail-order business.

This is in line with the local plan to promote light industry on the Monterey Peninsula.

Also, through the Center's unified effort, more favorable recognition is coming to local artisans and to the Peninsula area where they work. Recent examples of this include comment in the New Yorker and a color picture in November House Beautiful on the exquisite screens done by Emile Norman of Big Sur, and shown at the Pebble Beach shop. Another Big Sur craftsman identified with the Carmel Work Center is Franz Sandow, whose chess sets have been pictured on the cover of the Redwood Empire magazine and applauded in Delaplane's column in the San Francisco Chronicle.

A great deal is being done by Mr. Beeman's mushrooming organization to sell the craftsmen of Carmel and the surrounding area to the world. Local and national advertising and publicity is being expanded as rapidly as possible. The local shops are becoming meccas for tourists, who seem delighted with the "discoveries" they make in them. Even localites are beginning to "discover" what we have here, and to appreciate more fully the value of this undertaking, to the community. They seem to realize now that it is good business as well as good-neighborliness to follow the urging of the Carmel Work Center's slogan, to "encourage Peninsula craftsmen."

1) A CORNER OF THE CARMEL WORK CENTER shop, looking into the Seven Arts Court, Carmel, showing hand crafted pottery, stoneware, woodenware, metals, weaving, leather work, etc.--all creations of Peninsula artisans.

2) Representative hand crafts by Peninsula artisans whose work is distributed by the Carmel Work Center. (Water color is by Donald Teague, celebrated illustrator, now living in Carmel). The large plate and cup are by Carl Von Saltza, plastic bowl by Emile Norman, pitcher by Glenn Minshall, weaving by Helen Beecher, Helen Bennett and Zahara Schatz; silver by Bernard Peterson, and the statue by Clarence Bates.

3) A portion of the Carmel Work Center shop at the Del Monte Lodge, Pebble Beach. Everything shown here was created by local craftsmen, to be sold through the Center's shops and its national mail order business. The plastic screen in the background is by Emile Norman, whose work has attracted considerable national publicity. Photographs by STEVE CROUCH.

THE BLOOD WAS THERE!

"The Regional Blood Center was called again for two 'emergencies' last week, over and above our military quota. Dr. Chapman called from Area Thursday, February 9, asking if it would be possible to send out a shipment of O blood immediately. We were very happy to be able to make this shipment. Saturday morning, when at home, another call came through--COULD we possibly help with another emergency shipment of O blood, within the next 3 or 4 hours? Again we came through and Motor Corps took it all the way up to the military air base in time to make the plane that afternoon. These were sizeable shipments."

ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S WHO IS IT?

The "Who Is It?" for this week is Lloyd G. Weer, local manager of Pacific Gas & Electric Company. He is a native Californian, having been born in Sacramento of parents who came from Santa Clara. His grandfather, who owned the first general store in Monterey, lived in Salinas and commuted daily by horse and buggy. In those days, when Salinas River had water in it, the horse and buggy had to swim it! Another "first" in the Weer family was Mr. Weer's aunt, Miss Etta B. Lloyd, first grade school teacher in Pacific Grove. With her Mr. Weer lived during his two years at Pacific Grove High School. Then 1918 and the war. "I fought the battle of San Francisco...in Letterman Hospital with the flu."

After the war, and a short course at Heald's Business College in Los Angeles, Mr. Weer worked for his stepfather in the fruit business and thereafter for Blake, Moffat and Towne. Having been on and off the Peninsula ever since 1900, Mr. Weer came here to stay in 1929, beginning first in the Monterey office of PG&E, transferring later to the Carmel office, where he has been ever since.

He is a member of the American Legion, of the Music Society, of the Carmel Business Association, charter president of the Lions Club and past master of the Masonic Lodge. He has been associated with nearly every theatrical venture in Carmel, having either directed or played in 60 plays, one of which was the famous Candlelight, after the performance of which the Golden Bough Playhouse burned down on two separate occasions! As to hobbies, Mr. Weer paints in oil "for my own amazement," but thus far has not caused his own hair to stand on end.

His friendly smile is not only well known to those who have PG&E problems to settle, but it was the reason why Derek Rayne, then a visitor in town, decided years ago that Carmel would be a nice place in which to live if its people could smile in such a friendly way at strangers when they passed in the post office.

RESERVE OFFICERS WIVES ENTERTAIN HUSBANDS

The simple charm of open fires, candle light, and spring flowers provided the setting for a Smorgasbord buffet dinner the evening of February 13, when Dr. and Mrs. Leon B. Balicer opened their Carmel home for the Charter members of the newly organized R.O.A.L. and their husbands.

The Monterey Peninsula Chapter is the newest Reserve Officers Ladies Association in California, and wives of all members of the R.O.A. are eligible to join.

Following dinner a meeting of the group was held, at which time Col. Charles Richardson Jr., President of the Reserve Officers Association, installed the officers, read the Constitution and By-laws as set up by the National Headquarters of R.O.A.L., and then presented the Charter to Mrs. Joseph Johnston, president of the local chapter.

Officers installed were Mrs. Joseph Johnston, president; Mrs. William Richards, vice president; Mrs. Leon Balicer, secretary; Mrs. Julian Walker, treasurer; Mrs. Myrl McArthur and Mrs. Morton Balch, members of the executive board.

Suggested Club projects were discussed, and programs outlined for future meetings which will be held in the evening of each second Tuesday of the month, the location to be designated at a later date. Membership cards were issued to those present.

The combined efforts of the charter members whose cooperation made the affair such a pleasant success, together with their husbands, were: Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Myrl McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Morton Balch, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, Col. and Mrs. Charles Richardson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Magyar, Mr. and Mrs. John Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Beck, Dr. and Mrs. Leon Balicer, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Richards, Mr. and Mrs. John Gates, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Townsend, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Bagley.

CARMEL STUDENT STUDIES IN MEXICO

Robert M. Pearson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Pearson of Carmel, is in Mexico City, where he is attending Mexico City College, a school which provides an opportunity for students to observe and study Latin American culture at first hand, while following an American college course.

Founded ten years ago, the college has always taken an active and enthusiastic interest in plans designed to further and strengthen understanding throughout the western hemisphere and is a vital force in extending and furthering the U.S. good neighbor policy.

Most of the students become proficient in Spanish and learn much of the customs of the country by living in Mexican homes suggested by the college housing service.

Pearson is studying Spanish at the college. He graduated from Salinas Union High and has attended Hartnell College, Salinas, the University of Nevada, Reno, and the National University of Mexico. During the war he served for six and a half years in Asia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Seely of Pebble Beach became the parents of a baby boy, February 15, at the Peninsula Community Hospital. The new arrival, whose name is David Allison, has a brother, Freddie, and a sister, Penny. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Funk of Stockton, and Mr. and Mrs. John S. Seely of Modesto are paternal grandparents.

Nerve center of P.G. and E. is this giant control board in Oakland where Larry Lafrenz, with P.G. and E. 36 years, guides the flow of over 4 million horsepower. When trouble strikes, Larry's board tells him instantly. By telephone he can cut in or out any power source in the whole system so that repairs can be quickly made and power kept steadily flowing.

Lewis Kincheloe and his helper, Bob Webster, are "hot line" men in our San Joaquin Power Division. They work on lines carrying as high as 220,000 volts. It takes 620 trained linemen to maintain P.G. and E.'s 55,500 miles of power lines.

When snow chokes the canyons, rain floods the valleys and wind howls through the cities, P. G. and E. people go on a 24-hour alert to guard your heat and light. That's quite a job: 55,500 miles of power lines to check, 13,500 miles of gas pipe to watch, to say nothing of the home and factory installations of 2½ million customers who live in an area of 89,000 square miles. Now we'd like to have you meet some of our storm fighters and learn of some of the things they do to back up the motto: "You can depend on P.G. and E."

Meet George Kritsky, who operates one of the 150 P.G. and E. mobile radio units. By means of these radio units installed in service trucks and cars, P.G. and E. men can maintain instant, direct two-way communication with their headquarters. Thus repairs are often made with no loss of service.

WEDDING AT MOON TRAIL RANCH

The attractive living room at Moon Trail Ranch, the Carmel Valley ranch home of the bride's mother, Mrs. G. Faunce Whitcomb and Mr. Whitcomb, was the setting for the Saturday nuptials which united Patricia Ford and Alexander D. Henderson III. The Rev. Alfred B. Seccombe of All Saints' Episcopal Church read the five o'clock service before family members only.

An improvised altar was arranged in front of the fireplace, with white stock and snapdragons decorating the mantel. Tall wrought-iron candelabra were arranged to provide a soft light in the large room.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Byington Ford, wore a ballet-length white lace gown fashioned with a scalloped neckline, a snug bodice and long sleeves. In her hair she wore a net cap trimmed with bouvardia. Her flowers were tiny white orchids and bouvardia.

Mrs. Dean Wolter and Mrs. Felix A. Cordrey, attendants for their sister, were dressed alike in ankle-length frocks of violet chiffon made with pleated skirts and belted with velvet of a darker shade. Their flowers were pink carnations and violets.

Mrs. Stuart Hinrichs of Greenwich, Connecticut, the groom's sister, also came West for the nuptials.

Following a honeymoon to an undisclosed destination the pair will make their home in San Jose, while the new benedict finishes his studies at San Jose State College.

The new Mrs. Henderson attended the Brownmoore School in Santa Fe, New Mexico, then went to Chouinard School in Los Angeles.

WELCOME COTTAGE WELCOMING WELL

The servicemen's new weekend rest place in Carmel, Welcome Cottage, on the corner of Seventh and Lincoln, is off to a good start. More than 25 men from the Armed Forces spent part of their weekend at the Cottage and enjoyed the hospitality of the many Carmel organizations and individuals who have devoted generously of their time, money and furniture to launch the meeting place.

This coming weekend, members of the Auxiliary of the Carmel Mission will act as hostesses. At the monthly meeting held Saturday, Commander John Chitwood, Carmel councilman, was elected executive vice-president of the committee for Welcome Cottage. Mrs. Frank G. Ringland announced that due to the press of personal affairs she was withdrawing from the chairmanship of the committee. At her suggestion, Mrs. Barbara Murphy was named to succeed her. An expression of thanks was given Mrs. Ringland for her work in setting up the organization and establishing the Welcome Cottage. The Board requested her to continue to act as a member and advisor.

Something You Learned In The High Chair

IN AMERICA, we start lisping brand names almost as soon as we learn to talk. And from there on we depend on our brand language to get us exactly what we want. Buying by brand names that you have come to know and trust is an American custom that goes back to early Colonial days, and is now practiced in every home throughout the nation.

A Pledge of Dependable Quality

From childhood on we become increasingly aware of the fact that advertised makers' brands are an unwritten pledge of dependable quality . . . that manufacturers who identify their products with a brand-mark accept responsibility for satisfactory performance.

The American system of trade-marking has other advantages. It makes possible a wide variety for each type of product, so that you can select the particular brand that best satisfies your individual taste or need.

There is no better place to buy these trustworthy makers' brands than in the familiar stores of reliable MONTEREY PENINSULA merchants who feature brand names. These stores are the showrooms for the finest products of American industry.

Buy the brands you know at the stores you know. It's double assurance of integrity-backed merchandise and buying satisfaction.

CARMEL PLAYHOUSE TO ORGANIZE PLAYERS

Carmel Playhouse, incorporated, announces that next Tuesday evening, February 27, at the Carmel Girl Scout House, the Golden Bough Players will be reorganized for the season of 1951, under the title Camel Players. It is announced that the first plays of the new series will be presented in Sunset Auditorium, and the remainder in Carmel Playhouse, soon to go into construction. The Playhouse corporation, representing 250 business firm and propertyowners, will produce and sponsor the play series.

At Tuesday's meeting, players, directors and backstage workers from the whole Peninsula will be welcome. In most departments previous experience will not be required. After classification and registration there will be a general discussion of plays and local play production conditions for the ensuing year. Membership in the group, it is stated, will not involve dues or other obligations.

PICTURE-LECTURE BY CURTIS NAGEL MARCH 4

The San Francisco Town Hall, in association with Alice Seckels, will bring to Carmel another attraction in line with the finest they have presented. On Sunday evening, March 4, at 8:30, Curtis F. Nagel, well known photographer, traveler and lecturer, will appear with his all color, documentary film of Scandinavia--Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

This film will take you on an unforgettable visit to three of the most interesting and beautiful countries in the world. A camera man's paradise, this personally narrated film will take one to the stupendous grandeur of the fjords, the myriad waterfalls, the snow-covered peaks and glaciers of the Arctic, and a flight over the roof of the world to the North Cape. In Stockholm we participate in the festive celebration of the late King Gustaf's ninetieth birthday, and see the great King as he rides through the streets of the capital. We see the quaint cities of these three countries--palaces, churches, the birthplace of Hans Christian Anderson and Edward Grieg, historic villages brimful of human interest, alive with native life and customs. When Town Hall presented Mr. Nagel in San Francisco, hundreds were turned away, for this lecturer-photographer is known there from previous appearances to be one of the finest before the public.

Tickets for this epic picture-lecture are on sale at the Browse-Around Music Shop opposite the post office in Carmel, and at Abinante's Music Shop in Monterey. They may be ordered by mail by addressing Alice Seckels, Box 643, Carmel, and enclosing a self-addressed stamped envelope for the the return of the tickets.

LAST AUDUBON SCREEN TOUR WITH ALLAN CRUICKSHANK

The local Audubon Society presents their last Screen Tour of this season next week on Saturday, March 3, at 8 P.M., in the auditorium of Sunset School. Allan D. Cruickshank will present "Below the Big Bend," a colored motion picture of a little known part of our country. Tickets will be available at the box office at a nominal price for those who do not have season tickets.

Big Bend National Park is believed to be one of the first parts of the United States to be traversed by white men, much of it still remaining unexplored four centuries later. It consists of 1100 square miles near the Rio Grande.

This magnificent and rugged country fired with shifting color from dawn until dusk, is the setting of the brilliant wild-life motion picture, "Below the Big Bend" by Allan Cruickshank. Ranging from mountain tops to depths of the gigantic canyons of the Rio Grande, Mr. Cruicksank takes his audience to explore for interesting and unusual birds and animals, stopping to catch the glory of the springtime carpets of flowers in the desert. A trip is made to a cave of two million bats; to the land of Judge Roy Bean, once known as "law west of the Pecos"; to the colorful border city of Villa Acuna, and the Laguna Madre country at the Gulf of Mexico.

CONCERT TO FEATURE MODERN AND CLASSICAL

The modern and the classical share the spotlight at the March 6th concert of the Monte rey County Symphony Orchestra at the Sunset Auditorium in Carmel.

Featured in the Mozart "Concerto for Horn and Orchestra" is Steve McCann of Salinas, while the soloist in the Leroy Anderson "Trumpeter's Lullaby" is Paul Nelson of Fort Ord.

The Mozart selection is characterized by grace and perfection of form, typical of that composer. The "Trumpeter's Lullaby" is a short, modern composition in a melodious and romantic style written by Leroy Anderson, graduate of the Harvard music department, and organist and conductor.

Major work to be presented is the Schubert 7th Symphony, which is generally termed Schubert's greatest. Other contemporary music to be heard includes the works of Eric Coates and Charles Griffes. The Coates work is the "London Again Suite," while the Griffes opus is "The White Peacock." The Coates music depicts an impression of the English countryside and the activity of London. There are three contrasting pieces in the March 6th number: one, an energetic march; the second, a contemplative elegy; the last, a tuneful waltz.

MUSICAL ART CLUB PRESENTS MR. SWAN

Mackey Swan, baritone, will be presented in concert, Saturday, March 3, at 8 P.M., in the Carmel High School Auditorium, by the Musical Art Club. Mr. Swan will be accompanied by his wife, Lyn Swan.

A former student of Madame Amelita Galli Curci, Mr. Swan's musical experience has included opera, radio, television, oratorio, and he has appeared with the Philadelphia Opera Company. For the past five years he has been a member of the vocal faculty of the Los Angeles Conservatory of Musical Art.

He has led a very colorful life. Born in the Orient, of American parents, he spent his early boyhood there. Later he traveled with his parents, making several trips around the world. He returned to the States for his prep school and college education. At Temple University he studied for four years under Boris Bly, well known sculptor and painter. As one art leads to another, it was not long before a recognized musician urged him to study voice. In the conflict between music and painting, music won out. Since then, except for five years time out for service during World War II, Mr. Swan has devoted his life to the study and teaching of music.

Mrs. Lyn Swan, who will assist at the piano, is a student of Homer Samuels, husband and accompanist of Mme. Galli Curci. Mrs. Swan was also a member of the Los Angeles Conservatory faculty.

This will be an open concert and all music lovers are invited to attend.

REALTORS DISCUSS CIVILIAN DEFENSE

The Carmel Board of Realtors got off to a flying start this year with a dinner meeting in January and a luncheon meeting at Pine Inn Monday, February 12.

The 26 members present had the year's plans outlined by the 1951 president, Enos Fouratt. Three offices represented had new salesmen to introduce as well as out-of-town visitors. Civilian Defense plans and a discussion of the new Welcome House followed. Adjournment was sudden when Secretary Eleanor Marino asked for dues.

KING CONSULTANT TO NATIONAL FOOD AGENCY

John W. King, Carmel, director of National Association of Retail Grocers, has been appointed "Consultant" to the Food Distribution Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with headquarters in Washington. Mr. King took over in his new position on February 5.

In addition to working with the various sections of the Food Distribution Branch, including those on materials and manpower, wholesale and retail, restaurant and institutions, and the general food trades division, Mr. King will work with other government agencies such as the National Production Authority, in the interest of food distribution and its problems and needs during the emergency.

Mr. King was born in San Francisco, has operated in both the chain and independent food store field, and has nearly 30 years experience in food retailing.

STANFORD MEETING ON MPC CAMPUS

Dr. Harold H. Fisher, chairman of Stanford University's famed Hoover Institute and Library, said yesterday that "the world is big enough to hold both communism and democracy. But, if democracy is to survive," he added, "its adherents must make sacrifices in the battle to prove false the communist theory of democratic collapse."

Dr. Fisher spoke before the second Tri-County Stanford Alumni Conference here at the Monterey Peninsula College, attended by some 300 alumni and friends from Monterey, San Benito and Santa Cruz counties. The talk featured the opening session, keynoted by Calvin C. Flint, president of Monterey Peninsula College and a Stanford graduate. Chairman of the meeting which Dr. Fisher addressed on "The Meaning of Soviet Policy--No Peace, No War," was Admiral Raymond A. Spruance (Ret.), famed wartime commander of the Fifth Fleet in the Pacific.

Four other talks on key subjects of current interest were made at the meeting, including such topics as miracle drugs, volcanoes, education and international trade.

The conference here was the second in a series of ten to be held along the West Coast from Seattle to San Diego which will be capped by a reunion May 19 on the Stanford campus.

He explained Acts of Congress providing for "drop" letters, "locals," "weigh" letters and various carrier charges in use before the first prepaid stamps were put into use in 1855. These were the famous 5¢ brown and the 10¢ blue. He mentioned "stampless" covers and mail carried by boat, given to the master who paid the postmaster, and of early cancellations by hand and railroad post marks.

Mr. Conn exhibited three frames of early letters without covers, folded and sealed with wax. One 1850 letter, written after the completion of a seven months' trip around the Horn from Massachusetts to San Francisco, voiced the complaint of the writer who said he "had an attack of the blues." There were frank letters from Congressmen, soldiers' mail, and mail from leper colonies. An example of "free" mail was a letter from a president's wife--Edith Bolling Wilson.

This informative talk and unique exhibit proved of great interest to stamp collectors.

At the next meeting of the Peninsula Stamp Club--March 5 at 8 p.m., in the cafeteria of Sunset School--there will be an auction.

All stamp collectors and their friends are invited to attend and bring their surplus stamps to sell--also their money for purchasing. This is an excellent way of disposing of your duplicates, as well as bolstering your own budget and the other fellow's stamp collection.
